JAZZ REVISITED

The legendary US-radio-show from 30 years of old American jazz music
(1917 - 1947)

A lifetime spent with classic, early jazz.

Dear jazz friends,

March 2015

Inspired by my father and his "Swing Kids", I have followed my passion of flying the flag for classic, early jazz with an almost missionary zeal. I have been tireless in collecting jazz records and books, and have further supported my aims through founding the Jazz Museum Bix Eiben Hamburg, through publications and re-recordings, and by helping to build up collections, as well as much more.

My dedication to early jazz has never been with a view to economic gain, but is motivated solely by my love for the music and my great admiration of the musicians.

The time has now come to focus my efforts on a project that I began 15 years ago and that I wish to preserve from being forgotten.

This project has to do with the US jazz radio show "Jazz Revisited", which was hosted by the great disc jockey Hazen Schumacher, and which consists of around 1,500 half-hour radio shows on classic, early jazz, as played from 1917 through 1947. These jazz programs were broadcast every week on over 200 radio stations in the USA for 30 years.

JAZZ REVISITED was one of the most popular US radio programs of all time.

Many years ago, I received the complete set of programs on 1,500 cassette tapes from the University of Michigan and Hazen Schumacher himself.

Some of these cassettes had been damaged, but after nearly 3 years of work, their content has now been copied onto approx. 1,500 CDs, and the shows have been described in detail and documented in 2 books.

Every 14 days, 24 different broadcasts of Jazz Revisited can now be listened to on my websites www.bixeibenhamburg.com and www.bixrevisited.com. These shows can be listened to 24/7, for free.

I have also produced an audio CD that provides a more detailed description of the shows.

Should you be interested, I am more than happy to send you this audio CD for free.

Thanks to a second project in cooperation with the legendary US radio disc jockey ED Smith, you can now also listen to his shows, "Backroads of Jazz", for free on my websites.

Jazz Revisited gained so much popularity by now, that the US-Radio-Show is the first hit on the google list.

Keep Swinging
